Bill to Revise Defense Gets Okay of House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House swiftly passed and sent to the Senate today a compromise defense reorganization bill containing most of the provisions requested by President Eisenhower.

Prompt Senate passage was expected to send the measure to the President.

The House acted by voice vote and without opposition after terse debate. Only about 50 members were on hand.

Chairman Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) of the Armed Services Committee told the House that Senate and House conferees who worked out the compromise bill were in unanimous agreement.

Rep. Leslie Arends (R-Ill.), senior minority member of the committee, said the bill was "in complete accord with the wishes of those who sponsored the legislation originally."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Swift House passage was expected today for a compromise defense reorganization bill hailed by President Eisenhower as meeting most of his specifications.

The Senate was set to act soon afterwards, sending the bill to the White House and almost certain approval by Eisenhower.

The bill, approved Wednesday by Senate-House conferees, embodies much but not all Eisenhower sought in the way of authority to reorganize the Pentagon.

Essentially the bill accomplishes what Eisenhower advocated to clarify the command of the President, through the secretary of defense, over Army-Navy-Air Force Marine task forces in the field.

But Congress, traditionally insisting on preserving the identity of the separate services, did not give the defense secretary full, unqualified power to reorganize.

Microphone Congress wrote in some provisions which it described as safeguards but which Eisenhower has criticized as possibly obstructive. The measure does reduce the powers of the service secretaries and the individual military chiefs.

Senate Group to Get Data on Little Rock Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Rogers apparently has acceded to the Senate Judiciary Committee's request for Justice Department documents bearing on the Little Rock, Ark., case, last September.

The committee voted two days ago to ask for the papers in connection with its consideration of W. Wilson White's nomination to head the Justice Department's new Civil Rights Division.

Specifically, the committee wanted inter-office memoranda exchanged by White and former Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell about the President's powers to use troops to enforce a Federal District Court order for integration of Little Rock's Central High School.

As requested was a legal brief on the subject written by White, who at the time was head of the Justice Department's Office of Legal Counsel. In this post, he served in effect as Brownell's lawyer.

Rogers' reply to the request was delivered by messenger late yesterday to Sen. James O. Eastland (D-Miss.), chairman of the Judiciary Committee.

Asked today by a reporter if the committee's request had been complied with, Eastland said, "I understand so."

Eastland said a number of documents had been received but he hadn't had an opportunity to read them. He said he would go over them with other committee members at a closed door session. No date has been set for the Judiciary Committee.

In the face of sharp questioning by Eastland and other southerners on the committee, White has defended the President's action.

White testified two days ago that on instructions from Brownell, he did research on the President's powers to enforce court orders.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs have gone up 105 per cent in the 20 years since 1938, years that have included World War II and the Korean War.

That means that on the average, you must pay $2.05 today for something you could have bought for a dollar back in 1938.

The government released its latest living cost index Wednesday. It showed a fractional rise from May to June, less than one-tenth of 1 per cent. But it was a new living cost record, the 20th set in the past 22 months.

Government experts provided figures on request showing the story of those 20 years, broken down into 5-year slantz.

Their data show that from 1938 to 1943 consumer costs rose 23 per cent; from 1943 to 1948, 39 per cent; from 1948 to 1953, 11 per cent; and from 1953 to 1958, with President Eisenhower in the White House, 3 per cent.

But while the over-all living cost level soared 105 per cent in those 20 years, some individual family budget items didn't go up that much and some advanced much more.

For example, where the cost of gas and electricity rose only a little over 11 per cent, coal and fuel oil jumped 129 per cent.

In the 1938-58 span the cost of a new car rose 123 per cent, 60 per cent and food a whopping 151 per cent.

Hospital costs eclipsed almost everything else, rising nearly 300 per cent. Doctor fees increased 84 per cent, men's haircuts 206 per cent, gasoline 9 per cent, house hold appliances 33 per cent, newspapers 124 per cent and movie admissions 120 per cent.

Oddly enough, costs of men's clothes in those two decades rose 110 per cent, but women's clothes climbed only 78 per cent.

Now turn to the past five years under Eisenhower, in which living costs have risen 3 per cent. This again is a composite of many different changes.

For example, in the 1953-58 period food has increased 7.8 per cent, housing 8.6, dental 11, gas-electricity 8.7, coal-fuel oil 9.3, and clothing 1.8 per cent. Hospital costs rose 33 per cent, hospital insurance the same, haircuts 23.1, movies 25 and newspapers 20.

But in the past five years there were substantial price declines. Continued on Page Six

President Goes Over Answer to Mr. Khrushchev

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States started consultation today with its allies on an urgent message to Soviet Premier Khrushchev aimed at nailing down the rules and the membership of a United Nations summit meeting.

The attitude of French Premier de Gaulle constituted one possible hitch in the diplomatic negotiations. Russia's proposal to bring in a number of non-members of the 11-nation U.N. Security Council constituted another.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles conferred on a reply to Khrushchev's quick acceptance Wednesday night of the Western proposal that any summit meeting on the Middle East crisis should be held now as an extraordinary session of the Security Council.

The Russian Premier said he could be in New York Monday, but diplomats here and in London said it might take two or three weeks to work out arrangements and convene the conference.

Dulles consulted at the State Department in the early afternoon with French Ambassador Herve Alphand who told reporters immediately afterward that they had discussed the summit conference outlook. He said there has been no change in France's position, expressed in a letter by De Gaulle to Khrushchev Tuesday.

De Gaulle said at that time he was prepared to go to a summit meeting, but he thought it should not be held now—that the Security Council should go forward with its regular work and that later on, in a calmer atmosphere, the chiefs of government might get together.

Nothing quite like the proposed historic conference has ever been held at the U.N. Security Council in New York. Important precedents will be set.

Recognition of this was reflected in a stand by Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland of California that the free nations should not accept any Khrushchev conditions which weaken the U.N.

Knowland told a news conference he considered a fundamental issue to be whether the Soviet government, or any other country, can in effect unilaterally change the procedures of the U.N. by fiat of its own.

If this is permitted, he said, it will in effect have undermined and ultimately jeopardized the future existence of the organization.

Knowland's views are among a considerable flow of congressional opinion that the White House is receiving informally through liaison officers.

An idea put forward by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) is that Prime Minister Ben-Gurion of Israel and representatives of the Arab states should be included in any summit conference on the Middle East.

Arkansas History Commission Is Busy Microfilming the Newspapers of the State

By JOHN R. STARR

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — "We call the project recording history on the move," said Francis I. Gwaltney, assistant historian for the Arkansas History Commission.

Gwaltney, who has achieved nationwide fame as a novelist, is in charge of the commission's long-range project of microfilming Arkansas newspapers.

The project was started last year and already complete film records have been made of half a dozen daily and weekly papers. It will never end, because, Gwaltney pointed out, "after we catch up, we'll have a full time job just slaving away."

With more than 30 daily newspapers and three times as many weeklies, there are several thousand titles.

Remembrance Book at First Presbyterian

A very beautiful Book of Remembrance will be on display at the Presbyterian Church after the Morning Worship Service Sunday.

The Book is bound in padded leather in ecclesiastical red. The separate pages of the Book are protected by acetate. Different memorials are shown with the name of the one in whose memory each gift was made and the name of names of the donors.

Mr. Henry Haynes, an expert penman, did a magnificent work in inscribing the Book with the memorials.

Deacon James H. Miller who had charge of securing the Book and making arrangements for it and Deacon Comer Boyett, Chairman of the Board of Deacons, who assisted him, will show the Book to all who are interested.

A special case was built for the Book and placed in the Tower Vestibule. A glass top permits the book to be seen. The case will be kept locked and will be opened at any time anyone cares to inspect the Book.

Negro Singer Named Delegate to UN

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower has appointed Negro contralto Marian Anderson and six others as new members of the United States delegation to the United Nations.

Senate Foreign Relations Committee members said the nominations would get overwhelming confirmation.

Besides Miss Anderson, the president named Senators Mike Mansfield (D-Mont) and Bourke B. Hickenloper (R-Iowa) to represent Congress in the General Assembly session opening Sept. 16.

Other new members are Norman Phleger, Redwood City, Calif., attorney; George M. Harrison, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks; Watson W. Wise, Tyler, Tex., businessman; and Irving Salomon, Chicago, board chairman of Royal Metal Manufacturing Co.

Bids Taken to Clear Big Reservoir Area

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Army Engineers here received an apparent low bid of $1,355,705 yesterday for clearing about 10,000 acres in the Table Rock Reservoir area on White River in southern Missouri and north Arkansas.

The bid was submitted by Wade Lahar Construction Co. of Mountain Home.

A spokesman for the Engineers said a review of all bids received would be necessary.

The clearing work affecting Arkansas would be in parts of Boone and Carroll counties.

Engineers also announced that 10 homestead tracts in the Mallard Point area of Lake Norfork, seven miles northeast of Mountain Home, would be sold Aug. 19 to the highest bidder.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Stuart Symington (D-Mo) called today for another increase in the national debt limit to cover bigger defense spending.

Symington, in a speech prepared for floor delivery, said that if this is not done, there will be "a repetition of last year's cash crisis in the Pentagon."

Meanwhile, it was learned that Secretary of the Treasury Anderson already has sounded out key members of the House Ways and Means and Senate Finance committees on a further boost in the debt ceiling.

It was understood also that Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), Finance Committee chairman, has agreed some increase probably will be needed, but has urged Anderson to hold the limit to 285 billion dollars.

Symington said that the administration's decision not to ask for an increase in the 275 billion ceiling last year caused a disastrous stretchout of defense spending last fall.

This not only lessened the nation's military strength but also helped bring on an economic recession, he said.

Pilkinton Wants Prayer for Primary

HOPE, Ark. (AP) — Chancellor James H. Pilkinton of Hope suggested today that Sunday, Monday and Tuesday be set aside as a special prayer period for the primary.

The judge made the proposal in a letter to Dr. Harvard A. Anderson of Little Rock, executive secretary of the Synod of Arkansas, Presbyterian Church, U.S.

"It seems to me that all of our churches should be open next Tuesday for the same hours that the polls are open," Pilkinton, a leading Presbyterian layman, said.

"And that each voter should go by his or her church for a moment of prayer before voting," he said.

Pilkinton last year announced his intention of running for governor this year. Later he withdrew, declaring he did not want to participate in a bitter campaign in which the real issues would be sidetracked.

The chancellor said today that all candidates for every office should be able to endorse the prayer period proposal.

He suggested that the gubernatorial candidates forego Sunday political rallies and instead urge their supporters to attend church.

SS Benefit Boost Heads for Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — An across the board increase in Social Security benefits moved rapidly toward legislation year action in Congress today.

The House Ways and Means Committee reached all but final agreement on a flat 7 per cent boost in old age and disability payments, with a minimum $3 increase for all persons now receiving retirement checks.

For those workers not yet at retirement age, it would mean deduction of up to $25.50 more a year from their take-home pay because of a one-quarter per cent hike in the Social Security tax and enlargement of their taxable wage base from $4,200 to $14,800.

The committee reached informal agreement on the benefit hike and an accompanying tax increase after rejecting a proposal for a flat 10 per cent raise in benefits.

Some members, however, were hopeful the Senate would change House figures to bring the increase near the 10 per cent level.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.) said he hoped to have a completed bill ready by Monday for presentation to the House, where passage was regarded as certain.

The benefit increase probably would take effect next year, along with the accompanying hike in the tax rate.

The committee plan also calls for a speedup in the schedule of periodic tax increases now provided under present law. It would move up from 1975 to 1969 the date when the maximum tax on workers and employers alike falls due, and raise the final tax rate from 4 to 4 1/2 per cent.

To Abandon Hearing on Army Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House Armed Services subcommittee may abandon plans for a public hearing into Sherman Adams' connection with an Army contract settlement.

Chairman F. Edward Hebert (D-La.) said the group, already running behind schedule on its preliminary closed-door sessions, won't consider open hearings until its record is complete.

He said the subcommittee might decide to make public the transcripts of testimony taken behind closed doors rather than recall witnesses for open questioning.

Hebert said the probe would continue into next week.

The subcommittee is trying to determine whether Adams exerted any improper pressure in behalf of Rayline Winstead Inc., of Manchester, N. H. The firm last year received a $41,284 rebate on a 16-year-old penalty payment for late delivery of fabrics.

Adams, top aide to President Eisenhower, has said he did nothing more than pass along routine queries on the case. Former officials of Rayline, now defunct, also deny that any pressure was brought.

The hearing was scheduled for Monday but was postponed because of the death of Sen. John McClellan.

The funeral today was attended by many high-ranking state officials, including Gov. Orval Faubus who interrupted his third term campaign.

DeGaulle Is Not in Favor of a Summit Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — French Ambassador Herve Alphand said today Premier de Gaulle is not in favor of a summit conference within the United Nations Security Council in New York.

But he later issued a statement leaving completely in doubt whether De Gaulle finally would refuse to attend.

Alphand called on Secretary of State Dulles and told newsmen afterward, "We want real results, and we don't think the Security Council is a good place." He added that "it was clear from our reply we are not inflexible."

Soviet Premier Khrushchev, he said, was "certainly either mistaken or he did not attempt to read it (De Gaulle's answer) too well." If he believed the French leader accepted Khrushchev's bid.

Newsmen understood Alphand to mean that De Gaulle would not attend any summit meeting within the Security Council framework which might be arranged within the next few weeks.

However, Alphand, on returning to the embassy, authorized a statement which said: "The ambassador never said that Gen. de Gaulle would not attend a summit meeting of the Security Council."

He simply said that he had not been informed of any change in the French position which had been stated in the letter of Gen. de Gaulle to Mr. Khrushchev.

An idea put forward by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) is that Prime Minister Ben-Gurion of Israel and representatives of the Arab states should be included in any summit conference on the Middle East.

McClellan's Son Buried Today

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. John L. McClellan, looking haggard and distraught, went through the ordeal of his last son's funeral today.

Rites for James H. McClellan, 30, who was killed with three other men in a private plane crash near here Tuesday, were held at Trinity Episcopal Cathedral this morning.

Burial services were held at Malvern where James was born. McClellan's eldest son, Max, died in North Africa during World War II. The second son, John L. McClellan Jr., died from auto accident injuries in 1949 on the day of funeral services for Max.

The funeral today was attended by many high-ranking state officials, including Gov. Orval Faubus who interrupted his third term campaign.

Ike's Action Does Much to Ease Suez Deal

BY J. M. ROBERTS

Associated Press News Analyst
By the single act of letting his opposition be known and then yielding to the British view on a Middle East summit conference, President Eisenhower has done much to heal the sore of Suez which has been festering for two years.

Between the time the United States moved into Lebanon and Britain into Jordan the British were inclined to say "Look who's using force now."

There was resentment at the seeming upper hand of Washington in every deal.

When Khrushchev proposed a five-power conference on the Middle East, the British government was almost as suspicious as Washington. But everybody saw the Reds had cast a smart gambit, and the opposition Labor party began putting pressure on Macmillan to agree.

Eisenhower switched reluctantly and Macmillan got credit for bringing him to the British view. Following the identical reaction to the Iraq crisis, Anglo-American relations have received that much of a filip.

Izvestia, the Soviet government newspaper, complains that the Allies are trying to switch Khrushchev's summit-meeting idea into the U.N. Security Council because the United States has a "mechanical majority" there.

Even after 8 occasions in which the Reds have felt it necessary to use the council veto, it never seems to occur to them to ask themselves why.

A great many people appear to have become bored after starting out to watch the Security Council proceedings on television. For one thing, the delegates frequently seem to be arguing around in circles, maneuvering instead of applying themselves to the substance of the discussion. Random comment indicates, however, that translation slows the pace too much for the speed-accustomed televisioner.

The Japanese proposal for reinforcing the U.N. observation team in Lebanon seems to have been strictly on the maneuver side. Secretary General Hammarstrand proposes to do it just as though he had the authority all the time.

Maybe Soviet criticism of handling the proposed conference within the U.N. machinery indicates less need for a conference than when Khrushchev made his "anywhere but quick" plea. Or maybe he wouldn't find much propaganda value in being a minority of one in the Security Council.

Iraq Rubs Out All Anti-West Slogans

BAGHDAD, Iraq (AP) — Anti-Western slogans daubed on Baghdad's walls during the Iraqi revolution were being scrubbed off Wednesday on orders from the army.

Pictures of President Nasser of the United Arab Republic still are everywhere. But they have been ordered removed from automobile windshields for safety reasons.

Troops have been withdrawn from the city except around the radio station, and civil police have been handed back responsibility for maintaining order.

The evacuation of foreigners picked up speed. Two chartered planes took another group of 100 Americans to Rome.

Nuclear Test Ban Group in Agreement

GENEVA (AP) — The East-West conference of control of a nuclear test ban reached agreement Wednesday on a method to check distant nuclear blasts by collection of radioactive materials.

Details of the agreement, reached at the 18th session of the conference, were not announced. The agreement is the second in the talks that opened July 1. The conference earlier agreed on a method for checking distant blasts by a control of sound waves.

American League Attendance Slumps

CHICAGO (AP) — American League attendance has slumped for lack of a pennant race. White Sox vice president Chuck Comiskey said Wednesday, but he disagreed that "break up the Yankees" might be the cure.

Comiskey said "why break up something that's good?"

"It's up to the other clubs to build up so that they're equally good," continued the Sox executive, who said league attendance is down by some 600,000 or approximately 12 per cent.

"That's strictly because there is no pennant race," Comiskey said. "The Yankees were six games out in front before they even came west to meet the clubs in this sector. That was ruinous."

Miss Joan Hicks Weds Perry Gene Weiss
In a ceremony performed Sunday, July 13, at 4 p. m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hicks of McCaskill, Ark., Miss Joan Hicks became the bride of Perry Gene Weiss. The bridesmaids were Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hicks and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Weiss of McGregor, Texas.

S. R. Tipton, Minister of the Church of Christ at Hope, Arkansas, officiated at the double ring ceremony before a background of violet, pink, and white scabiosa with multicolored dahlias scattered throughout.
The bride chose for her wedding a white V-back sheath dress with a red pure silk scarf flowing from the right side of the skirt. The bodice was trimmed in tiny mother of pearl buttons down the front yolk. Her accessories were of matching white and red.

Mrs. Charles Tackett of Marshall, Texas, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid attendant. She wore a blue dress with a full flowing skirt. The bodice was trimmed in tiny tucks with baby lace and blue buttons down the front and on the short sleeves.

Marvin Krummoe of McGregor served Mr. Weiss as best man.
Mrs. Hicks chose for her daughter's wedding, a navy blue cotton-rayon sunback dress trimmed in white eyelid along the jacket opening with matching white accessories.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the dining room. The table covered with an Italian lace cloth was centered with a three tiered wedding cake topped with a white cape jasmine. Assisting in serving was Ava Nell Hicks, sister of the bride.

For travel, Mrs. Weiss wore a pink shantung suit with white accessories. After a wedding trip to the Ozarks, points in Missouri, Kansas, and Oklahoma, the couple will be at home at 507 N. Grove, Marshall, Texas.

Mrs. Weiss is a graduate of Blevins High School, Blevins, Ark., and Mr. Weiss is a graduate of Oglesby High School, Oglesby, Texas, and served two years with the U. S. Army. He is employed at Tholok Chemical Corporation, Karnack, Texas.

Guests were the bride's immediate family, Miss Frances Polson, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Lively, grandparents of the bride all of McCaskill. Out of town guests were Mrs. Bill Beene, Shreveport, La., sister of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Welthorn and children, Gail, Billy, and Eugene, of McGregor, aunt and uncle of the groom, and Mr. Bill Parker of Hope, Ark.

Personnel Announced For Bridgers-Jones Wedding July 30, 1958

House of Lords to Have Lady Member

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II is expected to name within a few days the first woman to sit in the House of Lords.
The women will be included among a small number of "life lords"—Bertons who have worked their way to noble rank but whose titles cannot be passed on to their heirs.

The life lords—and the provision to include women—were approved by Parliament earlier this year. The popular favorite is Virginia, born Lady Astor.

The new lords have been chosen and notified but must keep the secret until the announcement is made in the Queen's name.

Elect ROYCE WEISENBERGER your Prosecuting Attorney while his opponents deal in personalities. Won't you join hands on July 29th to elect a clean man who is conducting a clean campaign, your Prosecuting Attorney.

Your vote for ROYCE WEISENBERGER will prove that clean campaigning is what our people approve of.

DOROTHY DIX

Steady Dater's Taken
Steadily for Granted

Dear Dorothy Dix: I've been going steady with the same boy for over a year. In most respects he's wonderful but he has one habit that I deplore. Most people define "going steady" as "date security." Well, he must feel very secure because he never notifies me of a date, he tells me the night before. I must keep asking if he's going. Otherwise, I get a last-minute command. I've tried talking to him but he continues to keep me guessing. I've about decided that "going steady" is for the birds. — J. L.

Dear J. L.: It isn't always a jerk, that's for sure. You're too amiable. Rebel a little. The next time you get such a short-order invitation, tell the boy you haven't a dress suitable for a formal, and haven't time to get one. He's lazy, and too sure of you. He needs a jolt; see that he gets it. Otherwise, back in circulation for you.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am very much interested in a boy who lives near me. We work different shifts and, though we want to go out, we can't possibly see how we can manage it. He works from midnight to noon, with no day off, and I work from noon until 8 p. m. with Thursday off. How can we get together? — Renee.

Dear Renee, Even Univac couldn't figure that one out. If he can do without sleep one day a week, you can go to the movies on your day off. Otherwise, a walk, dinner or a movie are possibilities for dating. Maybe you could manage a few short picnics. They could be dinner for you and breakfast for him.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I have always dreamed of saying on my sixteenth birthday, "Sweet sixteen and never been kissed." I did promise my boy friend that he would be the first one I kissed. However, he is turning out to be a very aggressive, inconsiderate individual and I don't think I want him to be the first one to kiss me. I'll be 16 in just three weeks so haven't much time to make up my mind. — Bewildered.

Dear Bewildered: Since you place great value on kisses, don't waste one on a boy you don't really like. Tell him you've changed your mind and, even if it becomes "Sweet seventeen and never been kissed," you're going to wait.

My boy friend has been in Germany for the past two years and is going to make the service his career. When he left home we were little more than friends but through our letters we have grown to love each other — I think. He wants to pay for a round-trip ticket for me to go to Germany and make sure if it's the real thing. I'm 19, he's 20. My parents are leaving the decision up to me. Do you think I should go? — Genevieve

Dear Genevieve: It would be better to wait until your boy friend can get a leave and come to you. The thrill of the journey and a foreign land might sway you into convictions that aren't really yours. Wait a bit; you are both very young.

Pal Joey Wins Another Game for the Braves

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Pal Joey has won another big one for Milwaukee, this time with a two-hitter that hustled the Braves back into the National League lead.

Young Joey Jay blanked St. Louis 6-0 on a pair of singles Wednesday night as the champs moved a full game ahead of San Francisco.

The Giants, after winning six in a row, slipped to second with 3-2 and 2-0 defeats at Philadelphia. The first was a completion of a June 22 suspended game and marked Eddie Sawyer's return as manager of the Phils, who moved from sixth to within 100 of fourth place St. Louis.

Cincinnati defeated the Chicago Cubs 6-5 in 10 innings and Pittsburgh plunked Los Angeles back into the cellar with an 11-3 and 6-3 two-night sweep.

In the American League, first-place New York walloped Detroit 16-4, Kansas City beat second-place Boston 3-1, Baltimore defeated the Chicago White Sox 6-4 and Cleveland elbowed Washington 5-3.

for a 6-3 record. The Phils trailed 1-0 with two on and two out in the sixth when the June 22 game sounded Wednesday night. Lefty Harry Anderson tagged a three-run homer when play resumed. Third beat Ruben Gomez, the starter back in June, and gave Robin Roberts a 9-9 record although the Phils managed just three hits.

The Giants' streak officially ended in the second game. Frankie Robinson was hit by a 12th-inning full-pitcher's ball, and shutout both sides of the Giants.

Frank Robinson's 10th in four runs for the Reds, too with a double that earned a four-run fifth and the other pair with his winning 13th homer off reliever Don Rietin (7-6), Hal Jeffcoat (3-6) won it in relief after giving up Bobby Thomson's solo homer in the 10th. George Case also hit a two-run homer for the Reds.

Ron Kluge won his 10th with a four-hitter in the opener for the Pirates, blanking the Dodgers on one hit after Steve Biko's homer in the first inning. Stan Williams (6-4) lost it. Roberto Clemente lined a three-run, inside-the-park homer.

Dick Groat, who had two RBIs in the opener, drove in four in the nightcap.

New Records Set in State Swimming

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Three new records were set in the 15th annual Arkansas Athletic Ass'n swimming and diving meet here yesterday.

Trains from Little Rock Central High, Little Rock St. Mary's and Crossett hung on the tax marks. Defending champion Central edged up the Big Eight division with 40 points through the performance of Phil Filatreau. Crossett placed the Class AAA competition with 42 points and St. Mary's won the girls' division title with 27.

Filatreau, 15, slipped five-tenths of a second off the state 50-meter breast stroke record with a 35.5 time.

Crossett's A. C. Moncrief swam the 50-meter breast stroke in 38.0, seven-tenths of a second better than the old state mark. Daryl Conner of Crossett anchored his team to a record in the 100-meter relay which saw a new time of 56.3 seconds, one second better than Crossett's state record established last year.

Lightweight champion (111), Louisville, Ky. — Rudell Stith, 144½, Louisville, knocked out Johnny Neal, 153, Milwaukee, 3, Madrid, Spain—Young Martin 111½, Spain, outpointed Robert Pollack, 109 lb, France 15, (Martin) retained European flyweight championship.

Yanks Getting Even for Early Losses to Tigers

By ED WILKS

Maybe the toughest run of 'bad luck the Detroit Tigers have had this season was taking seven in a row from the New York Yankees, for now the American League leaders have come bombing back in reprisal.

In two nights Casey Stengel's machine has cracked the Tigers for 41 hits and 29 runs.

Wednesday night the Yankees belted Frank Lary for four runs, then celebrated with a pair of six-run innings against three other jacks for a 18-4 victory.

New York again has a 13-game bulge over second-place Boston, beaten 3-1 at Kansas City. Baltimore retained third by defeating the Chicago White Sox 6-4, Cleveland whipped Washington 5-3.

In the National League Milwaukee jumped back into the lead with a 6-0 decision over St. Louis on Joey Jay's two-hitter. San Francisco slid to second, a game behind, with 3-2 and 2-0 defeats at Philadelphia. Cincinnati defeated the Chicago Cubs 6-5 in 10 innings. A Pittsburgh plunked Los Angeles back into the cellar, sweeping a two-night pair "3 and 6-3."

The A's beat Red Sox rookie bill Monbouquette in his first major league decision with an unearned run in the first and a pair in the third on three singles and Bob Cerv's sacrifice fly. Ralph Terry blanked the Sox on five hits until Pete Runnels singled and Ted Williams doubled him home in the eighth.

The Orioles, within 2½ games of second, had only four hits for eight innings, then beat Early Wynn (9-10) with four runs in the ninth at Chicago. Joe Ginsberg, who earlier counted two runs with his first homer, singled home the first run of the rally. Jack Harshman's pinch single led it and Bob Boyd's two-run double won it for reliever George Ziehrer (2-1).

Russ Nixon drove in three runs for the Indians with a homer and a two-run double that capped a three-run, come-from-behind seventh inning.

Ex-Governor Cherry Against Orval Faubus

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Gov. Francis A. Cherry of Arkansas Wednesday night announced his opposition to Gov. Orval Faubus, who is seeking nomination for a third term as governor of Arkansas in next Tuesday's primary election.

"I shall cast my vote against Orval Faubus," said Cherry in a statement which was critical of Faubus' record. Cherry accused Faubus of "fomenting dissension between the races."

Cherry, now a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board was defeated by Faubus four years ago in a primary race in which Cherry sought the Democratic nomination for a second term.

In a statement, Cherry said that in normal time she "could never condone the callous and cynical practices that have characterized the Faubus administration."

And now, in view of the world crisis, he said, "the shocking headlines in the world's press made by Orval Faubus at Little Rock have cost us friends and allies in a time of desperate need."

Cherry said Faubus' actions pose a grave threat to Arkansas "but they pose a perhaps greater threat to the United States of America and to the whole of western democracy."

"If we, in Arkansas, vote now to sustain Orval Faubus in his own course of anarchy, we shall arm our enemies with a weapon they will use with telling effect among the Arab nations and among all the colored peoples of the world," said Cherry.

"On the other hand, we have the opportunity to take away from them this very effective propaganda weapon."

Cherry said he knows that some people in Arkansas "have been deluded by Orval Faubus' reckless deeds and even more reckless promises" but that he also knows "that we are not at heart a lawless and irresponsible people."

"We must not," Cherry said, "in anger and confusion, pull down our own house. We must, for the welfare of our nation, and for the maintenance of our own highest traditions and ideals, show the world on next Tuesday that Orval Faubus does not speak for the people of our beloved state."

Air Force Unwraps Atlas Missile

CANOGA PARK, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force took some of the wraps off the 10,000 m.p.h. Atlas missile Wednesday.

The Atlas propulsion system, called "the most powerful system in the free world to enter flight test and production," is a cluster of liquid-propellant rocket engines.

It consists of a twin chambered booster engine which ignites the missile to the fringes of space, a sustained engine which keeps it on course at high altitude, and two stabilizing "vector" engines to and newspaper pages published each week in Arkansas. And there are more than 100 years to catch up on.

The commission hopes someday to have a microfilm panel of every extant page of every newspaper ever published in the state.

"The job of catching up won't be completed in my lifetime," Gwaltney said. "But we're making progress."

Unfortunately, he added, the job can never be complete. File copies of many defunct newspapers have disappeared into limbo and complete files of some still publishing are not available.

The actual microfilming is not as easy as it sounds. Some of the files are yellowed and so brittle they crumble to dust at an incautious touch.

Files are complete on two newspapers—the Fayetteville Sentinel which folded in 1916 and the Huling News which ended 50 years of publication last February.

Complete files to date also are available on three current newspapers—the Pine Bluff Commercial, the Conway Log Cabin Democrat and the weekly White River Journal of Des Arc.

Copies of the Arkansas Gazette, oldest newspaper west of the Mississippi River, are complete from the first issue, April 20, 1819, to 1900. The Arkansas Democrat also has been brought up to 1900.

Microfilming of the Arkadelphia Southern Standard, the Magnolia Banner-News, the Nashville News and the Springdale News currently is under way.

"We get the finest kind of cooperation from publishers when we ask them for old files to microfilm," Gwaltney said. "Take C. K. Tudor, publisher of the Arkadelphia weekly. Each week, he sends us bound copies of files for two years. We'll have his newspaper complete in a month or so."

As an added service, the History Commission provides a copy of the microfilm record to the newspaper at cost. It saves the publisher about 90 per cent of what it would cost to have a commercial company do the job.

Newspapers are of prime historical importance," Gwaltney said. "No history book can be as complete as the newspaper's daily control roll."

The system was designed and developed by a division of North American Aviation, Inc. The thrust power of the system was not disclosed.

Adenauer and Dulles to Hold Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dulles will confer with West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in Bonn Saturday, the State Department announced today.

Dulles will go to Bonn before a meeting in London Monday of the Foreign Ministers Council of the Baghdad Pact.

He will leave Washington late Friday, reach the West German capital about 2 p.m. local time Saturday, talk over the world situation with Adenauer and leave at 7 o'clock Saturday night for London.

Dulles will remain in London until Monday evening, taking off then for Washington.

Don't Count Out Dodgers Yet?

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "Don't count out the Los Angeles Dodgers. We'll have a lot to say about who is going to win the National League pennant."

A brash statement? Maybe so. But it comes right from manager Walt Alton whose club is 9 games off the pace and locked in a grip with the Pittsburgh Pirates for seventh place.

The amiable skipper of the Dodgers said any club could win the pennant.

"The team is in good spirits and I still think we will have a lot to say about who is going to win the pennant. The current eastern swing could tell the story."

And Gwaltney had a good word for newspapermen as historians.

"We find, by exhaustive checking of old files, that the newspaper almost always tells the complete story and tells both sides of it. Maybe not the first day or week, but eventually all angles come out and facts tend to correct themselves," he said.

When the History Commission's microfilm records are complete, he added, an author who is willing to dig deep and long enough can write an authoritative, definitive history of the state, even if he starts 200 or 1,000 years from now.

warded. Ward said Arkansas had no chance of winning a segregation fight against the rest of the nation. A man with a son in the National Guard and another son in the Army told Ward earlier that he was concerned over the possibility of such a struggle.

"This is something to think about," Ward said. He said Arkansas needed maximum industrialization and told how he once offered a plan to help achieve that goal. Four years ago, Ward said, he proposed that communities pool their incomes into a fund for industrial development.

"It can be done," he said, "down in Clark County around Arkadelphia the people organized such a time, once they know the facts." Finkbeiner repeated a previous contention that Arkansas today has 8,000 fewer manufacturing jobs than in 1936. He said the figures came from James Bland, director of the state Employment Security Division.

The Little Rock meat packer corporation and built up their fund through investments. Now they have enough money and they are looking for the right industry to invest in."

"I am not for giving away money to pay out-of-state industry to come into Arkansas. We should be spending more to help our local industries expand or improve themselves."

He said that if local people united their interests in such a plan it would bring about larger payrolls and get more money into circulation.

Ward made only one speech yesterday.

Today he planned to be in the Hot Springs area.

Faubus

and that it involved Harry S. Ashmore, executive editor of the Arkansas Gazette, columnist Drew Pearson and the National Broadcasting Co.

"They are pulling out all the stops now," Faubus said. "They have an hour of time on television for Friday night and there are some people who call themselves Democrats Against a Third Term."

Faubus also noted that the Nbc program "Outlook" next Sunday would deal with the Arkansas campaign and said:

"That will be aimed at me. . . It's a part of the plot."

Later in the talk he said "Oh, these leftwingers and organizations that oppose me; they said I must go down because I have opposed them."

Faubus vowed that no one would ever dictate to him as governor. "If you elect me," he said, "I'll be the governor, so long as God said that Saline County is feeling some unemployment pangs despite the fact that it is the home of a Reynolds Metals Co. plant.

"The unemployment has come about because Reynolds cancelled earlier announced plans to expand the Saline County plant," Finkbeiner said, "and instead more than doubled capacity of its Muscle Shoals Plant in Alabama where the company gets a cheaper power rate."

He planned to spend the day in the El Dorado area.

Yesterday Finkbeiner made campaign visits to Texarkana, Gurdon, Arkadelphia and Crossett. A scheduled television speech at Memphis was postponed until Saturday night because of programming factors.

Finkbeiner made no speeches yesterday but concentrated on handshaking.

On his return to Little Rock last night, the packing executive issued a statement issued at Washington by former Arkansas Gov. Francis A. Cherry. In the statement, Cherry called for the defeat of Gov. Orval Faubus' bid for a third term.

Said Finkbeiner: "Gov. Cherry has the advantage of having served as governor of his state and is now serving in a high-level position at Washington, the effect of this election at the local, national and worldwide levels. I urge the people of Arkansas to weigh carefully his remarks."

Cherry now is a member of the Subversive Activities Control Board.

Cost of Living

Appliances, probably due to price discounts, declined 13 per cent, including TV sets 6 per cent, radios 10 per cent, refrigerators 23 per cent and vacuum cleaners 23 per cent.

A pair of women's nylons now costs 13 per cent less than five years ago, men's pajamas 1 per cent less, bedsheets down 8.3 per cent and used cars 12.6 per cent less.

So it goes in the mixed-up price world consumers face every day. The only consoling thought is that the government price experts say they expect some modest living cost decline in the next few months as cheaper summer food supplies reach market.

AP&L Plant Planned at Helena, Ark.

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Westinghouse Electric Corp. announced yesterday that it would build a giant electric generator for the Arkansas Power & Light Co.'s new power station at Helena, Ark.

The announcement said it would be the largest generator ever constructed.

Lamar W. McLeod, vice president of Westinghouse and manager of the Southwestern Apparatus Sales Region, said an order had been placed for the generator and a 325,000 kilowatt turbine to operate it.

gives me life and good judgment to make the decisions that are best for all the people."

At Van Buren, Faubus charged that his two Democratic opponents, Chancellor Lee Ward of Paragould and businessman Chris Finkbeiner of Little Rock, had been vague about what they would do if elected.

"High sounding phrases and a great patrician appeal are not enough," Faubus asserted. "The problem must be approached on a realistic basis."

He said he thought his opponents ought to offer a program "instead of just criticizing me, with the help of the Arkansas Gazette and a few others inside and outside the state."

At Paris last night Faubus told an audience that Ward and Finkbeiner had been "crying" about heckling they underwent at a Fine Bluff political rally last Saturday night.

Faubus also attended the rally. He denied that he had anything to do with the heckling.

"Have you ever heard me crying about anything?" he asked the crowd. Then he quoted a famous statement by former President Harry S. Truman: "If you can't stand the heat, get out of the kitchen."

President Goes

opportunity we've had to do something constructive. I work out a solution for the Arab-Israeli dispute which is the seed bed for problems in the Middle East," Humphrey told reporters today.

Humphrey had just come from a briefing given a group of senators by William Macomber, assistant secretary of state.

"Ben Gurion of Israel should by all means be invited to the conference," Humphrey asserted. "If Israel and the Arab states are included we would have an opportunity of clarifying relationships."

"The relations between Israel and the Arab states are at the root of the problem, rather than the question of U.S.-Soviet relations about which we have talked so much."

Among conditions Khrushchev attached to a summit meeting were that Prime Minister Nehru of India and Arab leaders be invited.

Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles conferred by telephone early this morning on a reply to the Soviet Premier. The White House said they talked before a National Security council meeting.

Summit questions presumably were discussed at the council meeting. After it was over, Dulles stayed on for a private talk with the President.

Eisenhower and Dulles, White House press secretary James C. Hagerly reported, were concerned with working out a reply to Khrushchev.

Hagerly held open the possibility that the message might be dispatched to Moscow today but said that was not certain by any means.

British Send Oil Into Jordan Area

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—The 8,000-ton British tanker Clyde Explorer has arrived at Aqaba with the first seaborne shipment of emergency oil for fuel-short Jordan, the U.S. Embassy announced today.

The U.S. Globemaster operation, which brought emergency fuel to this country in a sky train, is now finished. The airlift will be continued by different type planes.

All-Weather Stadium in the Future

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—What city will be the first to build an all-weather baseball stadium? New York? Cleveland, Los Angeles? No, it is Tokyo.

That's the word from George S. Mizota, prominent fishery executive and sports enthusiast.

"Plans for a new Tokyo stadium already have been made," Mizota said. "It will be a tremendous thing. It will seat 70,000 and it will have a glass dome. You could play a game in a snow storm if you pleased."

The Tokyo visitor said the project is being financed by Matsutaro Shoriki, president of the Yomiuri newspaper, owner of the Tokyo Giants baseball team and the man generally regarded as the father of baseball in Japan.

"When it came time to plan the dome," said Mizota, who learned his impeccable English at Stanford, "architects sought to find out how high would be the highest home run."

"So a survey was made of American home runs, those of Mickey Mantle, Babe Ruth and others. Finally it was decided that the highest home run was that one of more than 500 feet which Babe Ruth hit in an exhibition game at Tampa, Fla."

"It was decided the dome should rise 70 meters, or around 230 feet. No man should be able to hit that high a roof with a home run. But if he should — if some superman should come along and do it — then a local rule would have to apply."

ON THE WAY — After three erratic years in Hollywood, Cliff Robertson is happy now to say, "I've finally got a good role in a big movie." The soon-to-be movie is "The Naked and the Dead." Cliff is pictured here with his wife, Cynthia, the former Mrs. Jack Lemmon.

What Kind of Reception for Khrushchev

By ARTHUR EDBSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Suppose a summit conference was set up to be held at the United Nations in New York. And suppose Nikita Khrushchev did attend.

What kind of a reception would he get from the U.S. public?

This is not an academic question. Even though the chances for holding such a conference in this country appear to be thin, those who would have the job of making sure that Khrushchev would be unharmful have been thinking about their potential problem.

Their appraisal seems to be reasonable. It would be the toughest task they have ever tackled.

One item alone shows the immensity, not to mention the intensity, of their job.

There are in this country 38,248 Hungarians who fled their homeland after the 1956 revolt was crushed by the Soviet Union. Probably few of these would feel like dancing out to strew Khrushchev's path with rose petals.

In a melting pot like this, there are many other groups, and many other individuals, who may feel they have a personal score to settle with the Soviets. When you add in the crackpots and the downright crazy, whose dreams of glory often seem to include assassination, the protection job looks formidable.

Formidable, but not impossible, say those who would have to do it. It's not usually understood how much preparation must be made for the visit of any distinguished guest. Weeks of planning, charting and timing each move, day runs, fretting over traffic control, working over what someone in a large crowd might do, checks and double checks.

All this, and more, would be done if Khrushchev were to come to this country.

A couple of things that might be done to add to his protection: Have him land at a military airport rather than at a commercial airport, where crowds might be hard to handle.

Block off some of the streets around United Nations headquarters.

The treatment of Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov shows the undercurrent.

Even though he has tried to exude charm, he repeatedly has run into pickets, including one in Chicago toting a sign that read: "Follow, Stalin—go to hell."

But in the last 25 years hundreds of official guests have toured this country, and no one can recall any really unpleasant incidents.

It's true that Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York City refused to greet King Saud of Saudi Arabia last year, saying the King was anti-Jewish, anti-Catholic and for slavery.

But withholding hospitality does not add up to an incident. "The worst thing that ever happened to us," a State Department security man said, "was when Prime Minister Nehru went to one airport and we sent his baggage to another. Held him up for an hour."

"I sure hope we can continue to say that this was our most embarrassing moment."

Should Parliament hit upon a president agreeable to leaders of the 75-day rebellion and the pro-Western government it might ease the crisis so President Eisenhower can recall the troops.

Parliament was to have met Thursday but Osseiran announced that he was postponing the session. This was presumably to give the politicians more time to work out a compromise.

Robert Murphy, State Department troubleshooter sent by the President, has been sounding out both the rebel and government leaders. He met with Pierre Gemayel, head of the pro-government Falange party. Gemayel favors a Westernized form of government.

Parliament has two months to elect a new president before Chamoun's term expires Sept. 23. A two-thirds majority is required for election on the first ballot, but only a simple majority on subsequent ballots.

The rebellion started May 10 in an effort to unseat Chamoun, who he said he will not seek to change the constitution so that he could succeed himself. He has charged that the rebels were aided by President Nasser's Egyptians and Syrians.

First opera to be written for television was "Amahl and the Night Visitors," by Gian Carlo Menotti.

McClellan Tragedy Is Shocking

WASHINGTON (AP) Members of the Senate Wednesday voiced their shock and grief over the latest tragedy in the family of Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.).

They felt that the death of his third and last son, James H. McClellan, 30, in a plane crash in Arkansas yesterday, required all the "fortitude and courage" they associated with the character of their Arkansas colleague.

The tributes to McClellan and the expressions of shock, grief and sympathy for him were led by Sens. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.), the majority leader; McClellan's colleague, Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.); and Republican Minority Leader William F. Knowland (Calif.).

They were followed by the unanimous adoption of a resolution expressing the Senate's profound sorrow and extending sincere sympathy to McClellan.

Johnson recalled the death of two other sons of McClellan under tragic circumstances. He said that with "all of our hearts and souls" those of "us who love him" want him to know their feeling.

"Our love and affection go out to him," Knowland said, "in this hour of tremendous sorrow."

Fulbright said all who know McClellan share his grief over the loss of an "outstanding young man who had a great future."

Sufocation Fatal to a Third Child

DALLAS (AP) — A third child died Wednesday from suffocation suffered when she was trapped in a clothes closet of her home Tuesday.

Two children of a Negro family were found dead and two others unconscious by their mother, Mrs. Cardie McDade, when she returned home from work.

Debra Joyce Moore, 3, and Tommy Allen Carr, 4, Mrs. McDade's children by a previous marriage, were dead.

Carolyn Moore, 3, died Wednesday. A fourth child, Cloyce Moore, 6, was in a critical condition. His temperature was 108 degrees. He is in a Dallas hospital pack in ice.

The children were trapped when a handle fell off the closet door. Police said the temperature in the closet was well over 100 degrees.

TELEPHONE TALK

By Vance Smiley, Wire Chief, Hope, Ark.

INDUSTRY AND AGRICULTURE

We are hearing a lot these days about getting more industry in our section of the state and that's good. The local industrial fund we have raised is a worthy accomplishment and we want to keep after these projects, but at the same time we certainly don't want to overlook the help and encouragement we can give to agriculture. It is a known fact that we, here in the south, have not suffered the business recession that has hit some of the northern sections where industry provides nearly all of the income.

Our local trade territory is blessed with a variety of income producing items, such as livestock, poultry, timber, petroleum, melons and many kinds of row crop farming.

To the producers of these items, we in the telephone business have directed a large portion of our efforts this year, in extending our services to them. You may ask, "Has it paid off?" The only answer I can give is that Hope is one of the bright spots in the Arkansas area of Southwestern Bell, at present.

DRESS UP YOUR KITCHEN

It's certainly not news to most people that kitchen remodeling has become big business in recent years. Women everywhere seem to like a modern, efficient and bright kitchen, because they spend a lot of time there planning and serving meals.

We've found that some people, who have already remodeled the kitchen, add a finishing touch to the job by ordering a wall telephone in color.

A wall telephone in color will brighten your kitchen — and let you reach for the telephone and keep on baking a cake at the same time.

There are seven attractive colors — light gray, cherry red, white, moss green, ivory, pastel yellow, and beige. Table model telephones are available in all these colors, too, plus aqua blue and rose pink. Call the telephone company today — or ask any telephone employee. They'll help you brighten up your kitchen with a color telephone.

THE BEST WAY TO SAY "THANK YOU"

Many people, I know, look advantage of the long Fourth of July weekend to visit out-of-town relatives and friends.

Now that you're home, still remembering the fun of the visit, why not pick up the telephone and call them, just to say "Thanks again?"

It's the most personal way to remember their hospitality. And they'll remember your thoughtfulness, too. A businessman friend of mine told me the other day that long distance also helps him with his business correspondence. He just picks up the telephone and answers letters the personal, friendly way — by long distance. It costs so little, he says, and saves so much time.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

TOWN TAMER

By FRANK GRUBER
Chapter XXXIV

Riley Conder came around the table in three swift steps. He reached out with his left hand, caught the lapels of Tavener, Prince Albert and half-dressed man from the chair, whipped his right hand across Tavener's face and back.

Tavener gasped and Riley Conder yanked Tavener to his feet, caught him by the collar of his neck with one hand and by the seat of his trousers with the other, and rushed him toward the balcony doors. In his younger years, Riley Conder had been a bouncer in a trail-town saloon and he had not lost the knack of giving a man the "bum's rush."

He propelled Tavener headlong at the balcony doors, gave a final shove and let go.

Tavener came through the swinging doors, landed on his face on the wooden sidewalk and for a moment lay completely motionless.

Fell had gone to his work with breakfast. At 7:30 he began to become even more irritable than he had been, and decided that he might as well have something to eat.

He returned to the hotel and ate a substantial breakfast. He came out of the hotel at the exact moment that Guy Tavener was given the heave-ho by Riley Conder, a hundred yards up the street.

It was also the exact moment that Susan Tavener came out of Wendell Lewis's store across the street. She had gone to work at seven o'clock, directly after her scene with Tom Rosser before the hotel. She had gone to the railroad offices with an obsession, the need to buy a gun. She could not get it out of her mind and when Fell had left the offices to get his breakfast, Susan stopped her work and stared at the desk before her.

She had to have the gun. Possession of it would give her relief. Guy Tavener would not again bother her.

She got up suddenly from her desk and said to Bill Daves, who was working across the room, "I've got to do an errand."

On these three isolated incidents hung the fate of Great Plains.

Guy Tavener, drunk, had the fortune to swing a whiskey bottle at Riley Conder. James Fennimore Fell, railroad builder, ate a belated breakfast. Susan Tavener fell a victim to a bum's rush.

Fell came out of the hotel, saw Rosser still standing beside the door. Anger, he stamped down to the sidewalk and saw Susan Tavener leaving the general store of Wendell Lewis.

He called to her across the street. "Mrs. Tavener!"

He called loudly and Guy Tavener, feeling away from the business palace, heard the name Tavener. His heavy eyes looked toward the hotel, saw a man waving.

He looked into a rubber-legged man.

Susan heard her employer, located him and started across the street toward him. Fell, knowing he would have to cross the street and leaving called to his employee to walk back to the office with her, started across the street.

Tavener came toward them, saw a man and a woman, he identified vaguely as his wife, crossing the street toward each other.

"You," he mouthed, Tavener as he came running toward the two people in the street.

It was then that Susan Tavener saw her husband. Her hand went instinctively into her bag, which contained the article she had just purchased in Wendell Lewis's store. There was only one thing wrong. She had purchased a box of cartridges but had not loaded the revolver. In fact, did not know how to load it. She had intended to practice that evening.

So, her hand gripped the revolver in her purse, but did not draw it.

Tavener was now leaving the sidewalk, weaving as he approached Fell and Susan.

Then a dozen feet from the two he stopped abruptly. The man before him was not Tom Rosser. It was . . . the Big Man The railroad builder. He was having a tryst with Tavener's wife.

"You," he mouthed, "you, too!" He tried to point a wavering finger at Susan.

Fell strode toward the drunken

Ike Holds Comment on Khrushchev

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower held back any comment Wednesday night on Premier Khrushchev's conditions for summit talks at the United Nations. Many diplomatic officials were convinced such talks could take place.

A number, however, voiced strong doubts that any such party as Khrushchev proposed to begin Monday at U.N. headquarters in New York City could be arranged as quickly as that.

Eisenhower deliberately delayed any reaction overnight until Secretary of State Dulles and diplomatic officials put Khrushchev's words under the microscope, figuratively reading the fine print for gimmicks.

The White House press secretary, James C. Hagerty, gave no indication when the U.S. reply to Khrushchev might be expected. He said he would be in his office early Thursday (7:30 a.m. EDT), but gave no hint that a reply might be made public at that time.

Susan heard her employer, located him and started across the street toward him. Fell, knowing he would have to cross the street and leaving called to his employee to walk back to the office with her, started across the street.

Matter of FACT

Although mummies are often thought of only in connection with Egypt, some mummies have been found in the Americas. Many of the best ones were found among the remains of the Incas of Peru. Some archaeologists feel that these are not true mummies, because the bodies do not appear to have been specially treated. But there is substantial evidence that many American mummies were treated and are true mummies.

Bill Up to Outlaw Switch-Blade Knife

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill to bar switch blade and gravity knives from interstate commerce won swift approval today from the Senate Commerce Committee. The group acted on the House-passed bill less than two hours after witnesses displayed a collection of the wicked looking knives to show why they wanted such weapons banned from interstate trade.

Sparkman Sees Irap Recognition

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) expressed belief today the United States ultimately will recognize the new government in Iraq. He did so after attending a secret briefing by Undersecretary of State Herter.

Sparkman said it was his own view, and apparently that of the administration, that a little more time will have to lapse before a decision is made on recognizing the new regime.

Egg consumption in the United States has risen 44 per cent since before World War I.

U. S. Doesn't Want a Meet at this Time

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Next to an outbreak of war, the one thing the Eisenhower administration least wants just now is a summit conference either inside or outside the United Nations.

But an effort to preserve U.S.-British unity and avoid a repetition of the costly division of 1956 during the Suez crisis has forced the President to take a position where Premier Nikita Khrushchev seems to have the last word on whether or not there will be a summit meeting.

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles both actually think, according to the word of some of their top aides, that this is no time for a top-level meeting in the Middle East, and that the U.N. Security Council in New York, with all its excitement, is no place for calm discussion of the crisis.

Administration officials said today there are several reasons why a summit meeting is highly inadvisable now.

1. Khrushchev is in the position of an accuser and the United States of a defender in the dispute over the causes and the possible consequences of American and British military intervention in the Middle East. From the U.S. point of view, this is an upside-down situation, one that puts this country at a great disadvantage in trying to deal with the political and propaganda interests at stake in any highly publicized meeting.

2. There are, in the U.S. government's view, two real villains in the East today. They are Khrushchev and Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser. The State Department is convinced they intend to do everything possible right now and in the future to foment as much trouble as they can against pro-Western governments in the Middle East.

3. The risks involved in any summit conference are so great that no such meeting should ever be held without the most careful preparations that diplomacy can devise. These risks include dangers of misunderstanding, of an illusion of progress toward peace, of an exchange of debate which could inflame rather than calm the tempers of governments and peoples alike.

Consumers Are Halting Recession

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business NEAyst Consumers who failed to be panicked by the sharp drop in industrial activity since last summer are halting the slump and laying solid for a new rise.

They also seem to be taking the Middle East crisis in stride. After years of one crisis after another, the public apparently is growing blasé and doesn't react the way it once did.

Rising government spending is also helping turn the economy up again—if only slightly.

And businessmen seem to be regaining their confidence, talking more convincingly about a fall upturn and in some cases increasing their orders for materials of semi-finished goods.

These deductions come from a report of the President's economic advisers on the indications sighted in the April-May-June quarter, with the month of June turning in the most convincing figures.

In the second quarter spending for goods and services reversed a nine-month downward trend. It rose by 2½ billion dollars to reach an estimated annual rate of 428 billion.

Although this is well below the peak of 445 billion reached last summer, the upturn has significance because all but 400 million of this second quarter gain is credited to increased personal spending. Increased government spending is just getting underway.

But the consumer didn't panic. He bought what he needed. He responded quickly to bargains. And much of the success of the hoop-la campaigns put on during the dark days of the recession—January-February and March—generally is credited to the fact that real bargains were promoted. Family budgets may have been watched a little closer. But consumers for the most part regulated themselves reasonably—and without government controls.

So, if after the summer lull, the economy is found healthy and on a moderate upturn this fall, much of the credit must go to the public that didn't lose its head.

Union. The injured athletes were Rafer Johnson of Los Angeles, the national decathlon champion, suffering a weak knee; Tom Courtney of Livingston, N.J., middle distance runner who hurt his back in a diving accident; and Harold Connolly, world hammer throw record holder from Boston, who has a separated shoulder.

The United States is favored in the men's competition, mainly on superiority in sprints and field events. The American women's team, made up mostly of athletes from Tennessee A&I in Nashville, Tenn., are not concerned much chance against the hardy, powerful Russian women.

Upon his accession to the throne, the Pope takes a new name, which usually is the name of some predecessor whose sanctity and policy particularly appeal to him.

Films Will Do Anything to Get Customers

By BOB THOMAS

AP Motion Picture Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP)—In the search to find film subjects that will attract customers to the theaters, the movie makers have come up with one on artificial insemination.

This is no sensation-packed quickie, but a top-flight production made in England and starring Julie London and Anthony Steel. Back home again, Julie filled me in on it.

The title was 'A Question of Adultery,' she explained, "but the Johnston office won't let us use that title in America. I understand the title here will be "The Seventh Commandment." The story, she related, was a composite of several cases that have actually happened in the British Isles. A husband and his pregnant wife are involved in an auto accident that causes her to lose the baby and him to become sterile. They have a test tube baby.

After the wife gives birth to the child, the marriage breaks up and the husband sues to have the child declared illegitimate. Two such cases have been tried in England and Scotland, Julie said. In one instance, the husband won, in the other he lost.

"We shot two endings to the picture," she added. "The one in which the birth is ruled to be adulterous will be used in Catholic countries, where artificial insemination is condemned. The other ending will be used in England and America."

Julie admitted she had some

SLAVE WAS FIRST

First European to enter the Indian pueblo of Zuni, in western New Mexico, was the Moorish slave Estevan, who came to New Mexico in 1539 with the Franciscan friar, Marcos de Niza.

Since the automobile made its first appearance, 2,500 different makes have been produced in the United States.

qualms about doing the picture. She recalled how her 9-year-old daughter picked up the script and asked what the word "adultery" meant. "It's a funny feeling to be making pictures your own children can't see," she sighed.

But the era when all films can be shown pure for children's eyes has passed. Nowadays producers have to aim for more adult themes, and heaven only knows what they'll tackle next.

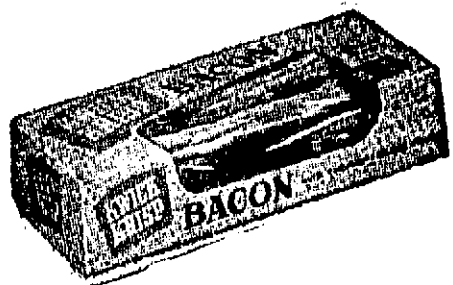

Show Planned to Go With McClellan

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Clifford Shaw of Little Rock planned to board the ill-fated plane in which four persons died near here yesterday — then changed changed his mind and was injured in a car wreck.

Shaw, commissioner for the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference, and Robert Douglass of Little Rock were waiting for the plane Monday to take them to Magnolia, where Shaw was to speak.

Informing that the weather was bad, Shaw left by car for Magnolia. He escaped serious injury in a wreck near Camden that night.

The plane, carrying the son of Sen. John McClellan (D-Ark) and three other men, crashed in the Lolla Community near Mayflower yesterday, killing all four.
